DEATH RESULTS FROM OVERWORK

Devotion to His Duties as Chief Engineer Causes Demise of Joseph Meredith.

DIED IN THE SOUTHLAND

Noted Railroad Civil Engineer Was Born in Rush County Fifty-Two Years Ago.

Joseph Meredith, who was born in Jackson township, Rush county, fifty-two years ago, died yesterday in Florida. He was a son of the late W. G. Meredith of Bedford, Iowa, a grandson of the late Samuel Barrett, one of the early pioneers of Rush county, and a nephew of Thomas J. Meredith of this city, now deceased. Funeral arrangements were not completed when word was sent to the Meredith family here.

The Indianapolis Star contains the following account of Mr. Meredith's death:

"The death of J. C. Meredith, chief engineer of the Florida Coast Railway extension, which occurred here Tuesday, was the result of devotion to duty. Several months ago, when advised by physicians to take a trip to Europe, he refused, saying he expected to remain on the job until the east coast extension was completed. Last Saturday afternoon he was taken violently ill and today he was brought from Marathon, Florida, the base of operation of the railway work. He died shortly after noon of diabetes.

"Mr. Meredith had been on the extension work since the spring of 1905 when he was brought from the construction of the Mexican Central to Florida to engineer the difficult task of laying a line of cement and steel across inaccessible keys, treacherous marshes and sheer stretches of open water of the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Ocean, one of the most remarkable engineering feats of modern times."

GATHERING GREEN ONES FOR STABLE

Harrie Jones Adds Three to His String—All Have a Most Promising Future.

TWO STAKED EXTENSIVELY

Harrie Jones has added three more horses to his stable in the past week and he thinks three of the best ones that he will have this year. They are all green ones and have no records. One of them is a green trotter, Nellie Conner, that has been in the stable of Ed Gears of Memphis, who drove a mile in 2:09 in a race.

Another is Oakland Conner that trotted a mile last year in 2:07 1/4. These two horses will be staked extensively and named in all of the big handicaps in the Grand Circuit. The third is the mare, Mattie Hord, that last year, in her four year old form, showed a mile in 2:08 1/4. She is a green pacer.

TWO OLD PREACHERS.

Rev. Arthur C. Rankin, of Clarksburg, and Dr. I. N. Hughes, of Richmond, were the two oldest ministers in attendance at Whitewater Presbytery. Both are about seventy-five years of age, and have been preaching the Calvinistic doctrines for over thirty-five years.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO POSTOFFICE

Glass Door Broken in "Federal" Building at Arlington and Money Drawer Rifled.

BUT FIFTY CENTS SECURED

The Arlington postoffice was broken into Saturday night by burglars who secured the sum and total of fifty cents for their trouble. The front door had been locked from the inside and the key left in the door. The glass in the door was broken and entrance gained by thrusting a hand through and unlocking the door. All the drawers were rifled, but as the postmaster had taken the day's receipts to his home leaving fifty cents in change in a drawer, the bold robbers received little for their work.

* EVERY PARENT SHOULD
* HELP THE ENUMERATOR.
* Just now the enumeration of school youth—those between the ages of six and twenty-one years is being taken. Every parent can materially help and make the enumeration a success. The more children reported the larger will be the fund for the local schools. The enumeration is not for the purpose of taxing anyone, but really to reduce taxation. For every child reported, the State gives a sum equal to about six dollars for that child's education. It reduces just that sum in local taxation. Don't tell the enumerator, if you have children, that you have none. It is against your best interests to do so.

CAUSES A SEVERE PARALYTIC STROKE

Death of Grandson Brings Shock to Mrs. Samuel Frazee of Orange.

IS MOTHER OF JOHN P. FRAZEE

Concerning a severe paralytic stroke suffered by Mrs. Samuel Frazee, mother of John P. Frazee of North Main street, the Connersville News says:

"Mrs. Samuel Frazee of Orange, the aged mother of L. A. Frazee, who was so overcome by the death of her grandson, Paul, Saturday evening, that she suffered a stroke of paralysis, is thought to be improving. Although still in a very precarious condition she is able to take a little nourishment, and is gradually gaining strength. Mrs. Frazee is past eighty-three. She is the widow of the Rev. E. S. Frazee, who, in his prime, was one of the foremost ministers of the Christian church. The lady makes her home with her son, Austin. Several relatives are attending the sickbed. She has had two previous paralytic attacks."

TO MEET IN JOINT SESSION

Commissioners of Fayette and Rush to Consider Petition.

Another road petition has been filed with the county auditor, says the Connersville Examiner. This petition is for the improvement of a road three miles north of Falmouth on the Rush-Fayette county line. The petition will be considered at a joint meeting of the two boards at Rushville on May 6.

CAME FOR FUNERAL ON SPECIALS CARS

Classmates of Paul Frazee in the Connersville School Brought Many Floral Offerings.

BURIAL OCCURS IN EAST HILL

The funeral services of Paul Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Frazee, were largely attended Tuesday, says the Connersville Examiner. They were held at the residence in the afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. J. C. Burkhardt officiating.

The members of the cortege were taken to Rushville in two special cars. The family and a large concourse of friends entered the car at the Eighth street crossing. The teacher and members of Paul's class at school were among those who accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

The many beautiful floral designs were a token of the deep love that was borne for Paul. His classmates are sorrowful and their grief is pathetic to witness as they express how greatly their classmate will be missed.

NO PIPPINS THIS YEAR.

Charles Hall, the fruit tree expert, is authority for the statement that there will be no crop of Vandiver Pippin apples this year, according to observations made by him in this county. This variety of apple trees did not bear last year either. All the other varieties of apple trees seem to promise a fair crop of apples.

HOW GOOD ROADS AFFECT FARMERS

They Have an Important Influence in Making Rural Life More Attractive.

VALUES ARE INCREASED, TOO

Agricultural Department Issues Bulletin Showing How People Prefer to Live on Good Roads.

Better roads, according to those who have been studying the country life question, constitute the reform which would do most to advance the material and social welfare of the farmers. Following the report of the country life commission appointed by former President Roosevelt, the National Grange, which claims the title as the original "Good Roads Association," has started a fresh campaign to enlist national and State aid in improved highway construction.

A bulletin issued by the department of Agriculture shows the direct connection between good roads and the value of farm lands. An investigation was made relating to public road mileage, revenues, improved roads and expenditures in the United States in the year 1904. In nearly every case, it is shown, States having the highest percentage of improved roads have the largest population per mile of road, indicating that better roads are a powerful factor in encouraging the settlement of unpopulated sections of the country.

It is held further, that good roads are an important influence in retaining upon the farms desirable elements that otherwise might seek the towns and cities. The logic of this contention lies in the fact that good roads increase farm values, and thus lessen an incentive to seek material advancement away from the soil. The social aspect of the good roads movement and the facilities it affords for better school systems in the country districts are matters that also are receiving attention, and it is hoped to arouse the farmers of the country as a whole to the importance of a broad policy of public highway improvement by the Federal government, States, counties and townships.

TAUGHT HERE IN LOG SCHOOL AGE

Joseph Ricketts of Tennessee Returns Here After Years in the Southland.

HE IS NOW 72 YEARS OF AGE

Joseph Ricketts, one of the early Hoosier schoolmasters in Rush county and who wielded the hickory when the three Rs were taught here in log school houses, is visiting his brother, Jacob Ricketts in Richland township.

Mr. Ricketts has been living on a farm in Tennessee for years and is now 72 years old. He sold his farm last fall and spent the winter in Florida. Mr. Ricketts contemplates buying a farm in Rush county.

Rev. A. H. Graham Gave a Short Talk This Morning.

Rev. A. H. Graham of Richmond, who has been here for the session of the Whitewater Presbytery, delivered a short address before the high school students this morning on the subject "Swastika." The speaker made a very strong impression on the pupils and the talk was greatly appreciated.

COL. WORTH AT HIS BOYHOOD SCENES

Visits Church He Formerly Attended and Pressed $20 in the Pastor's Hand.

VOTED A GOOD FELLOW THERE

Colonel James Worth, the very "muchly" heralded Joplin millionaire, attended church services at Wesley chapel near Anderson, Mo., last Sunday and left a very good impression. In fact, he left two very dollars, pressing it in the hand of the Rev. Taylor, the pastor, at the conclusion of the services. Jim made a little "after church" talk, saying there is no privilege on earth so precious to him as going back to the scenes of his boyhood to attend church. Down there the people say "Jim may have his faults—all of us have—but he is a good fellow in some ways."

VIEWERS MAKE A FAVORABLE REPORT

Recommend the Paving of Second Street—Deem it a Public Utility.

GIVES AN ESTIMATE OF COST

The viewers, appointed by the county commissioners in the matter of the petition of Owen L. Carr et al. for the improvement of Second street by brick, filed a favorable report in the auditor's office yesterday evening, and recommended the improvement. They, after careful consideration of the existing conditions and going over the ground, deem it a public utility and are of the opinion that the cost of construction is much less than the benefit that will be derived by the taxpayers. They estimate the cost of said improvement to be $61,858.40. The commissioners will accept or reject the report in ten days. The improvement is planned to extend from the covered bridge near East Hill cemetery on the east pike, through the city of Rushville on Second street to Buena Vista avenue, thence up the avenue to Third street and west on Third street to the bridge crossing Hodge's branch, a distance of less than three miles.

FARMERS GIVEN STRICT ORDERS

Postoffice Department Requires the Rural Patrons to Place Boxes in Good Position.

ACCESSIBLE TO THE CARRIERS

Cannot be Placed on Telephone, Telegraph, Electric Light Poles—Must Have Strong Support.

An order from the postoffice department to Postmaster Charles Frazee, insists that all rural mail boxes be so located as to be served with the greatest expedition, in order to hasten the delivery, collection, and dispatch of rural mail, enable rural carriers to cover their routes with celerity, and give the earliest possible service to patrons residing on the far end of the route.

The local postmaster is directed to require each rural carrier at the office to submit without delay, for the transmission to the department, the names of all patrons whose boxes cannot be served without leaving the road, dismounting, driving in deep ditches or on steep inclines, or on or across railway tracks involving danger, or the approaches to whose boxes are obstructed. It is not required that boxes be erected beside the wheel tracks, nor at any particular corner of the crossroads but they must be built within the confines of the roads and accessible on any corner.

The national department also desires that boxes not be attached to telegraph, telephone or electric light poles, or to fences or buildings, but should be accurately fastened to neat and strong posts, firmly set at the side of the road, at a sufficient height to be served by carriers without rising from their seats or reaching through wheel spokes. After the boxes have been properly re-located, and it is practicable to shorten carriers' schedules, Mr. Frazee is asked to advise the department that the changes in the schedules may be considered.

When the roads are in bad condition, the postmaster is directed to make a report to the department of the existing conditions and the proper local road officials and co-operate with them and the patrons to the fullest extent consistent with the position and duty to secure the improvement of the roads. The department recommends that the good-road question be given careful consideration, as it is in nearly every instance productive of good results.

HOUSEHOLD WORRIES

There is Not the Slightest Need for
Some of Them Existing in Rushville.

The average mother finds sufficient annoyance and worry performing the ordinary duties in the rearing of a family, but the cares and anxiety are doubled when there is added to ordinary conditions that of weakened kidneys in a juvenile member of the family. How to cure it should be of untold value to Rushville mothers. Read this:

Mrs. Ernest Carpenter, 919 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "My son had very weak kidneys and was unable to control the kidney secretions at night. This trouble had clung to him so long that I was afraid it could not be cured. The doctor had failed to bring relief and the child became delicate and in very poor health. He had a sallow complexion and there were many other symptoms of disordered kidneys. Learning that Doans Kidney Pills had cured many other cases of this kind, I obtained a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store. Their use quickly relieved my son and greatly improved his health."

Dead Man, In Court.

New York, April 21.—Sarah Koten, the young Russian nurse, who last June shot and killed Dr. Martin Auspitz in the doorway of a Harlem apartment house, to which she had lured him by a false telephone message, was placed on trial in the criminal branch of the supreme court today.

The young woman declares that the physician, by whom she had been employed, ruined her and that she shot him in a fit of despair over her condition. Her child, born since the shooting, figures prominently in the case. She asserts that Dr. Auspitz was the father of the child. She has been in the hospital on Blackwell's island since the birth of the baby.

TUNNELLED

Suffolk, Va., Robbers Take Their Time to It.

HAD BEEN WORKING FOR DAYS

Burrowing Beneath Four Other Buildings, These Patient Burglars Effected an Entrance Into Bank and Succeeded in Getting Away With all the Loose Money.—The Vault Resisted Their Efforts, However, and the Bank Was Not a Great Loser.

Suffolk, Va., April 21.—Tunnelling their way under four other buildings to reach the vaults of a bank, robbers gained admission to the bank of Suffolk, carried away with them a large amount of loose currency, gold and silver, and succeeded in making their escape.

Although the loss was discovered by the officials of the bank Monday morning, no notification thereof was given to the police until last evening. It is thought the thieves must have spent at least ten days before they succeeded in reaching the bank by their underground course. It is believed that they finished their job and made their entrance to the bank on Sunday or Sunday night. They attempted to break open the vault but did not succeed in this. They secured about $1,500. The police have no clue.

Inside the tunnel were found empty bottles, cigar stamps and bits of food, which make it evident that they must have spent most of their time in the tunnel. Employees in one of the stores under which the robbers tunneled say that they had observed some peculiar noises beneath them during the past week.

COSTLY BLAZE IN

JEFFRIES WILL FIGHT

Colored "Champ's" Challenge Has Been Accepted By Californian.

New York, April 21.—"I will fight Mr. Johnson. I will defend my title as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

Before an audience that packed the American Music Hall, and in which there were as many women as men, James J. Jeffries last night made this formal announcement. It was a signal for great joy. Excited men leaped from their seats, shouted and cheered, and many women in the audience applauded. Their shrill and excited cries of approval, as they stood up and waved their handkerchiefs, and even their peach basket hats, to the ponderous, bowing and blushing "undefeated champion" added picturesqueness to a remarkable scene.

There are several conditions attached to Jeffries re-entry into the prize ring. First, Johnson must defeat Ketchell. Then Jeffries can not sign articles for possibly ten months and he insists that the fight shall take place in this country and that it shall be unlimited as to rounds.

TO SAVE THE BOYS

This is the Object of Campaign Begun in Boston.

Boston, April 21.—Saving the boys of the cities in the purpose of a movement begun in this city today. It will take the form of a "campaign of education" and will differ, it is said, from anything ever before tried in this country. Its purpose is the arousing of interest in the rescue of wayward, delinquent boys.

Cities and towns within twenty-five miles of Boston have been invited to assist in the movement. The program includes teachers' gatherings on two Saturday mornings and two Sunday afternoon meetings for newsboys. The meetings will be addressed by prominent speakers of Boston and other cities. The campaign will continue until May 2.

A Mighty Army of Clean Headed Americans.

Thousands and thousands of heads that were dandruff filthy a year ago are scrupulously clean today.

This means that millions, yes billions, of dandruff germs have been annihilated, and cannot continue their pernicious work of hair destruction. But best of all it means that at last there is a cure, an absolutely certain cure for dandruff, one so prompt in its action and so marvelous in its results, that many are skeptical when told of what it has done.

Parisian Sage is the name of the quickacting hair restorer that is responsible for a mighty army of clean headed Americans, and its action is so certain that F. B. Johnson & Co., the agent in Rushville guarantees it to stop falling hair, itching scalp, and cure dandruff in two weeks, or money back.

Parisian Sage makes women's hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days.

The price of this delightful money-back hair dressing is only 50 cents a bottle at F. B. Johnson & Co's or direct, all charges prepaid, by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BABY'S STRANGE DEATH

The mother found the boy in this position on searching for him after he had been missed a short time. The child was dead when found.

Whitcapping Cases Set.

Columbus, Ind., April 21.—The case of the state of Indiana against David Fox and Jacob Kirk is set for trial on Monday, May 24. These men, who live at Smithville, Monroe county, are charged with whitcapping Thomas Vanest, who in June, 1907, was taken from his home near South Bethany, this county, and whipped by a number of men. Eight men were arrested and tried and all were acquitted, with the exception of Fox and Kirk. They obtained a new trial.

MUST STAY IN PRISON

This Is the Word Tom McCoy Gets From Supreme Court.

Indianapolis, April 21.—The supreme court has affirmed the decision refusing to discharge Thomas J. McCoy from the state prison at Michigan City, on the ground that his statutory allowance of "good time" had caused his sentence to expire. McCoy was convicted of a violation of the banking act, causing loss to depositors in his bank at Rensselaer.

The court says that the statute of 1883, providing for an allowance of "good time" in favor of a prisoner who obeys the prison rules was obviously repealed by the indeterminate-sentence law of 1897, now in force. "The inconsistencies between the provisions of these two acts," said Judge Jordan, "are obvious, and it is, therefore, not necessary that all be referred to or pointed out specifically."

THE NATIONAL GAME

New York, April 21.—Rain and generally cold and disagreeable weather caused a postponement of all the important ball games scheduled for Monday in all three of the big leagues, except the Detroit-Cleveland contest in Detroit and the Milwaukee-Minneapolis contest at Milwaukee. Auditorium, Connersville---TONIGHT

"YOU TALK ABOUT YOUR MOTHER! WHY, SHE'D BE ASHAMED TO OWN YOU."

While New York theater-goers have been thoroughly aroused by the crusade instigated by church and civic organizations against the present alleged tendency to immorality on the stage as evidenced by several recent productions, "Polly of the Circus," which is to be presented in its original metropolitan magnitude at the Auditorium in Connersville tonight, is receiving commendation by clergymen of all denominations in the various places it visits as one of the cleanest and most wholesome plays of the age and an entertainment that no lover of an evening of genuine enjoyment can afford to miss.

Telling as it does the story of the odd romance of a pretty little circus rider and a village postor in the middle west, "Polly of the Circus" is a drama as original as it is refreshing, and is one of those rare plays that appeal to the "gallery gods" with the same force as to the occupants of orchestra chairs. Since this epoch making play was first produced hundreds of thousands of persons have been moved from laughter to tears and to sheer joy in following the fortunes of the wistful girl from which comes the title, "Polly of the Circus," and her ministerial admirer. The reproduction of a mammoth circus in full swing in the third act is the greatest piece of stage realism yet achieved and will be seen at Connersville identically as witnessed during its season long run at the Liberty Theater, New York City.

The company presenting this play is by all odds the most competent acting organization sent on tour this season, and the Connersville engagement of "Polly of the Circus" is certain to prove the real event of the season.

Rexall "93" HAIR TONIC

Our faith in the superior remedial qualities of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we promise to return your money—without question or quibble—if it does not do what we claim it will.

Because it contains Resorcin, Beta Naphthol, Pilocarpin, Borax, Glycerin and Alcohol in perfect combination, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic provides the softening, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, stimulating and nourishing properties, so desirable and necessary for the successful treatment of scalp and hair troubles.

If used according to directions for a reasonable length of time, we are absolutely positive that it will thoroughly cleanse the scalp and hair, relieve irritation, eradicate dandruff, stimulate the hair follicles and papilla, revitalize and nourish the hair roots, stop falling hair, prevent baldness, promote hair growth and make the hair naturally soft and silky.

You must realize that we would not dare back up our claims with such a liberal offer unless we were positive that we can substantiate our statements in every particular, and the most skeptical person should at least be willing to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk.

of HOME FURNISHING COMPANY'S

Furniture, Carpet and Rug Stock

Now Being Closed Out by

THE NATIONAL SALVAGE COMPANY

At One-Half Price

Thursday, April 22d, Friday, April 23d, and the last day of the sale, BIG SATURDAY, April 24th—these THREE days will positively be the LAST THREE days' sale of the HOME FURNISHING COMPANY'S Furniture, Carpet and Rug Stock. For these LAST THREE DAYS of this Big Sacrifice Furniture Sale the National Salvage Company will absolutely smash the prices to smithereens. The entire balance of the Home Furnishing Company's stock of Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc., will be divided into special lots, and every article will be cut down to a terrific reduction which will without a question of a doubt dispose of every article of Furniture, Carpets and Rugs belonging to the Home Furnishing Co., in these last three remaining days of the sale. Unheard of and low down prices will prevail.

Those who have waited until the last will be astounded at the values to be had. If you have any regard for the purchasing power of your money, if saving a dollar on every two dollars spent means anything to you, then drop everything and make your arrangements to be in Rushville for the last final three days' terrific clean up and final disposal of The Home Furnishing Company's stock.

Former wholesale cost of the goods have not been considered at all. The entire balance of this stock of good quality Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc., has been put to a slaughter at prices that will amaze you. OUR REMEDY TO SAVE THE COST OF PACKING, FREIGHT, TRANSPORTATION, IS TO SACRIFICE THE STOCK DIRECT TO THE PUBLIC.

All preparations have been made for the biggest crowds of people that will attend on the last three days of this sale, which will no doubt be the biggest crowd of people that have ever attended any sale in Rushville before. Come before it is too late, and secure the greatest bargains in Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc., that it has ever been your privilege to share in. It is a pity to sacrifice such a fine stock of Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Chinaware, Household Goods, etc., such as the Home Furnishing Company carried, but it had to be done. The stock had to be sold at forced sale, and the balance of this entire stock has been cut down to the lowest possible limit in order to dispose of it all in these last THREE remaining sale days, Thursday, April 22d, Friday, April 23d, and the last day of the sale, BIG SATURDAY, April 24th.

To those needing Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Household Goods, this quit business sale of the The Home Furnishing stock is truly a God-send to the public, as it is right at the time of the year when you are thinking of replenishing your home and household needs. Make your arrangements to be here without fail—one of the last three days of this stupendous, Closing-Out Quit-Business Sale of the Home Furnishing Company's entire stock.

Remember, this sale positively closes and ends on Saturday night, April 24th. The last day, Saturday, April 24th, will be long remembered as the most terrific days sacrifice of good quality Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Chinaware, Household Goods, etc. Those who are taking advantage of this Quit-business Sale are benefited greatly. The LAST THREE DAYS, Thursday, Friday, and ENDING SATURDAY NIGHT, April 24th, at 11:00 p. m., these three days will be a sale—a sacrifice—a bargain event—an avalanche of Majestic Furniture and Carpet Bargains such as will take the city and vicinity by storm. It will arouse such a response that commercial circles and would-be competitors will be astounded. These last three days of this sale will be a bargain earthquake of low prices on good quality Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc., that will be remembered in the town of Rushville and vicinity for the next ten years.

Make no mistake. Be sure you find The Home Furnishing Company's Store. Look for the big green and white sign on the big three story building at Third and Main Streets, Rushville, Ind. Remember that Saturday, April 24th is the last day of the sale. Never again will you get such an opportunity as this to buy Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, and Household Goods at practically the cost of the raw material.

What about that spitting ordinance? Big puddles of tobacco spit can be seen on the sidewalks everywhere, and before turning a corner it is necessary to exercise great caution to keep from being spit upon.

A lighted cigarette carelessly dropped was the cause of the fire which recently destroyed the south side of the city of Fort Worth, Texas. Six persons were seriously injured, property valued at $3,000,000 was consumed, including some of the finest residences in the city, and 2000 people were rendered homeless. Now that the liquor evil has been abolished by county seal option, why not tackle the smoke evil next?

President Taft is insisting on Congress upon a final adjudication of the tariff question at the present session of the national legislative body. This dictum of the President will strike a responsive chord in the minds of the people who are anxious for a speedy return to prosperous conditions and who realize that prompt settlement of the subject now under consideration by Congress is one vital step in that direction. Postponement would not serve to clarify the problems involved and would simply further delay the return and establishment of prosperity. "Do it all now, and do it quickly" is the basis on which Congress should work.

The mercantile agencies are making favorable reports on the outlook for general trade, though they are not at all buoyant. However, the mere fact that there is an upward trend in the general business situation is a bit of good news. The wheat situation in Chicago, while purely speculative as far as prices are concerned, does not help business. It unsettles matters in many directions, as wheat is the prime necessity in life's affairs. Men will not buy flour unless the purchase cannot be avoided. They will wait and wait, whether the lot to be bought is for a family or a great baking establishment. This hinders trade in more ways than one. It is somewhat surprising if it should develop that Chicago banks have aided and abetted this giant speculation just at a time when there was a chance for legitimate improvement.

A step in the right direction is the proposition now before Congress to tax sales of futures, so as to cut off gambling in wheat, corn, oats and all kinds of farm products. When a man wants to hold farm products for an advance, that is legitimate. When, however, a man sells something he does not have, never did have and does not expect to have, that is clearly illegitimate and purely gambling. When a man buys grain, let him get the grain or a warehouse receipt. If he buys a future, let the seller pay a ten per cent. tax on the amount of the transaction that would absolutely cut off dealing in futures. That was the way the government stopped the issuing of wild cat currency by banks, it was taxed ten per cent. The issues were stopped. Dealing in futures breaks up thousands of men who are dragged into the maelstrom of speculation by the glittering bait held out by the men who can and do manipulate things. This grand larceny on a gigantic scale should be stopped.

SCHOOL NOTES

Prof. J. H. Scholl.

By Prof. J. H. Scholl.

The high school authorities have just received the complimentary announcement that the Rushville high school has been placed upon the list of schools accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools. Only forty-two high schools in Indiana bear this relation which requires some severe tests as to equipment and teaching force.

The aim of the Association is, first to bring about a better acquaintance, a keener sympathy and a heartier co-operation between the colleges and secondary schools of this territory; secondly, to consider common educational problems and to devise best ways and means of solving them; thirdly, to promote the physical, intellectual and moral well being of students by urging proper sanitary conditions of school buildings, adequate library and laboratory facilities and higher standards of scholarship and of remuneration of teachers.

The Association is voluntary, organized and devoted solely to the highest welfare of the boys and girls of this territory which includes seventeen States. It aims to accredit only those schools which possess organization, teaching force, standards of scholarship, equipment, esprit de corps, of such character as will unhesitatingly commend them to any educator, college or university in the North Central territory.

HORSE RECEIVES A DANGEROUS INJURY

Animal Fell and One Arm of Shaft Was Run Through Her Body.

WAS HAULED HOME IN WAGON

A horse belonging to the Davis livery barn broke loose from a fence, where she was hitched last Monday, and ran away causing considerable damage. The accident occurred a short distance south of Sexton. The animal started up the road at a rapid gait and a boy in attempting to stop her, caused the horse to run to the side of the road, where the buggy struck a stump. The vehicle was overturned and the horse was thrown to the ground, the point of one arm of the shafts entering her body just below the right front leg and coming out in front through the horse's breast. The left back leg was also dangerously injured. Word was sent to the owners and they soon arrived on the scene of the accident and relieved the suffering animal. The horse was unable to walk and it was necessary to get a large moving van from this city and haul her home. It was necessary to take a large number of stitches in the wound. Davis brothers recently refused a good sum of money for her.

Secretary King Negotiating With Toledo Parties For Flights at the County Fair.

CANNOT GET THE WRIGHTS

Will L King, secretary of the Rush County Fair Association, has the air ship bee in his cranium and is determined on getting one here for flights at the fair this fall. It was impossible to book the Wright brothers, world's famous aeroplansists, on account of a previous engagement the same date as our fair, but Mr. King is now in communication with the next best air ship people who are located in Toledo. They guarantee successful flights otherwise they do not make a charge. It is likely that a deal will be closed with the Toledo people.

At the closing session of Whitewater Presbytery at the Presbyterian church last night Rev. Walter Reynolds of Greensburg gave an address on "Church Officials" and Rev. T. J. Graham of Richmond on "Brotherhood."

The committee on resolutions offered the following report: "Resolved that the Presbytery of Whitewater records its hearty thanks and great appreciation of the delightful and ample provision made by the Rushville church and the pastor for the comfort and enjoyment of the members attending this meeting of Presbytery. We pray, also the blessing of the Heavenly Father on pastor and people."

The next meeting of Presbytery will be held at Lewisville, Ind.

BY THE WAYSIDE

From now until the last day of school the average American youth will be a very restless mortal. He will sit at his desk in the school room and despite the great efforts of the teacher to keep his mind on the lessons, the youngster's thoughts will stray away to winding lanes, cool woods, shady pools and the sunny fields, where the ball and mask and bat holds sway. He will be wishing for the vacation days, and in the wishing and longing will not be as studious as the folks at home and the patient teacher desire. Yet it cannot be helped. When we were tykes ourselves, we had the same disease, and the youth of today is pretty much like the one who wandered over hills and dells and along inviting streams, seemingly only yesterday, but in reality, long years ago.

The BLACK BAG
 By Louis Joseph Vance

As for his involuntary protegee, she exhibited such sweet composure that he caught himself wondering if she really appreciated the seriousness of her parent's predicament—if, for that matter, its true nature were known to her at all. Calendar, he believed, was capable of prevarication, polite and impolite. Had he lied to his daughter or to Kirkwood? To both possibly, to the former alone not improbably. That the adventurer had told him the desperate truth Kirkwood was quite convinced, but he now began to believe that the girl had been put off with some fictitious explanation. Her tranquillity and self control were remarkable otherwise. She seemed very young to possess those qualities in such eminent degree.

She was looking wearily past him, her gaze probing some unguessed abyss of thought. Kirkwood felt himself privileged to stare in wonder. Her naive aloofness of poise gripped his imagination powerfully—the more so perhaps since it seemed eloquent of her intention to remain enigmatic—but by no means more powerfully than the unadorned appeal of her loveliness.

Presently the girl herself relieved the tension of the situation, fairly startling the young man by going straight to the heart of things. Without preface or warning, lifting her gaze to his, "My name is really Dorothy Calendar," she observed. And then, noting his astonishment, "You would be privileged to doubt under the circumstances," she added. "Please let us be frank."

"Since it is to be confidences" (this she questioned with an all but imperceptible lifting of the eyebrows), "I don't mind telling you my own name is really Philip Kirkwood."

"And you are an old friend of my father's?"

He opened his lips, but only to close them without speaking. The girl moved her shoulders with a shiver of disdain.

"I knew it wasn't so."

"You know it would be hard for a young man like myself to be a very old friend," he countered lamely.

"How long, then, have you known each other?"

Exposure to Wet,
 dampness and cold, results in a sudden chill. Take a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Pain-killer, in half a glass of warm water or milk. The whole system will be heated and the danger of cold avoided. Two million bottles are sold every year and this after seventy years in use. There is the new and economical 35 cent size and also the 50 cent size.

"Must I answer?"
 "Please."
 "Between three and four hours."
 "I thought as much." She stared past him, troubled. Abruptly she said, "Please smoke."

"Shall I? If you wish it, of course"—
 "She repeated, "Please."
 "We were to wait ten minutes or so," she continued.

He produced his cigarette case.
 "If you care to smoke it will seem an excuse." He lighted his cigarette.
 "And then you may talk to me," she concluded calmly.

"I would gladly if I could guess what would interest you."
 "Yourself. Tell me about yourself," she commanded.

"It would bore you," he responded tritely, confused.
 "No. You interest me very much." She made the statement quietly, contemptuous of coquetry.

"Very well, then. I am Philip Kirkwood, an American."
 "Nothing more?"
 "Little worth retelling."

"I'm sorry."
 "Why?" he demanded, piqued.
 "Because you have merely indicated that you are a wealthy American."

"Why wealthy?"
 "If not you would have some aim in life, a calling or profession."

"And you think I have none?"
 "Unless you consider it your vocation to be a wealthy American."

"I don't. Besides, I'm not wealthy. In point of fact, I'm—He pulled up short on the verge of declaring himself a pauper. "I am a painter."

Her eyes lightened with interest.
 "An artist?"
 "I hope so. I don't paint signs—or houses," he remarked.

Amused, she laughed softly. "I suspected," she declared.

"Not really?"
 "It was your way of looking at things that made me guess it—the painter's way. I have often noticed it."

"As if mentally blending colors all the time?"
 "Yes; that and—seeing flaws."

"I have discovered none," he told her brazenly.

But again her secret cares were claiming her thoughts, and the gay, inconsequential banter died upon her scarlet lips as a second time her glance ranged away, sounding mysterious depths of anxiety.

Provoked, he would have continued the chatter. "I have confessed," he persisted. "You know everything of material interest about me. And yourself?"

"I am merely Dorothy Calendar," she answered.
 "Nothing more?" He laughed.
 "That is all, if you please, for the present."

"I am to content myself with the promise of the future?"
 "The future," she told him seriously, "is tomorrow, and tomorrow"—She moved restlessly in her chair, eyes and lips pathetic in their distress.

"Please, we will go now, if you are ready."
 "I am quite ready, Miss Calendar."

He rose. A waiter brought the girl's cloak and put it in Kirkwood's hands. He held it until, smoothing the wrists of her long white gloves, she stood up, then placed the garment upon her white young shoulders, troubled by the indefinable sense of intimacy imparted by the privilege. She permitted him this personal service. He felt that she trusted him; that out of her gratitude had grown a simple and almost childish faith in his generosity and considerateness.

As she turned to go her eyes thanked him with an unfathomable glance. He was again conscious of that esoteric disturbance in his temples. Puzzled, hazily analyzing the sensation, he followed her to the lobby.

A page brought him his topcoat, hat and stick. Tipping the child from sheer force of habit, he desired a gigantic porter, impressively ornate in hotel livery, to call a hansom. Together they passed out into the night, he and the girl.

Beneath a permanent awning of steel and glass she waited patiently, slender, erect, heedless of the attention she attracted from wayfarers.

A cab drew in at the block. The porter clapped an arc of wickerwork over its wheel to protect the girl's skirts. She ascended to the seat.

Kirkwood, dropping sixpence in the porter's palm, prepared to follow. But a hand fell upon his arm, peremptory, inexorable. He faced about, frowning, to confront a slight, hatched faced man, somewhat under medium height, dressed in a sack suit and wearing a derby well forward over his eyes, that were hard and bright.

"Mr. Calendar?" said the man tensely. "I presume I needn't name my business. I'm from the Yard."

"My name is not Calendar."

The detective smiled wearily. "Don't be a fool, Calendar," he began. But the porter's hand fell upon his shoulder, and the giant bent low to bring his mouth close to the other's ear. Kirkwood heard indistinctly his own name, followed by Calendar's, and the words: "Never fear. I'll point him out."

"But the woman?" argued the detective, unconvinced, staring into the cab.

"Am I not at liberty to have a lady dine with me in a public restaurant?" interposed Kirkwood without raising his voice.

The hard eyes looked him up and down without favor. Then: "Beg pardon, sir. I see my mistake," said the detective brusquely.

"I am glad you do," returned Kirkwood grimly. "I fancy it will bear investigation."

He mounted the step. "Imperial theater," he told the driver, giving the first address that occurred to him. It could be changed. For the moment the main issue was to get the girl out of the range of the detective's interest.

He slipped into his place as the hansom wheeled into the turgid tide of westbound traffic.

So Calendar had escaped, after all! Moreover, he had told the truth to Kirkwood.

By his side the girl moved uneasily. "Who was that man?" she inquired.

Kirkwood sought her eyes and found them wholly ingenuous. It seemed that Calendar had not taken her into his confidence, after all. She was therefore in no way implicated in her father's affairs. Inexplicably the young man's heart felt lighter. "A mistake. The fellow took me for some one he knew," he told her carelessly.

The assurance satisfied her. She rested quietly, wrapped up in personal concerns. Suddenly Kirkwood was recalled to a sense of duty by a glimpse of Hyde Park Corner. He turned to the girl. "I didn't know where you wished to go."

THE GOVERNOR PREDICTS

He Has Been Down to Washington and Comes Back With Views.

Indianapolis, April 21.—That the enactment of the Aldrich tariff bill will be followed by a new political alignment, is the firm conviction of Governor Thomas R. Marshall, who has just returned from an eastern trip during which he visited Washington and obtained information from the side lines. "The Aldrich bill will be passed, in my opinion," said the governor, "and I do not believe that it can be altered, and passed, in such a way as to provide any benefit for the consumer."

The governor insists that the tariff fight is nothing more nor less than a struggle among the protected interests to maintain what they have and to obtain more protection. "I talked with a number of representatives of special interests at Washington," said the governor, "and they agreed that the tariff bill is a special interests measure."

The governor was inclined to ridicule the effort to revise the tariff. "It impressed me as would a lot of fellows caught outside when a rain storm threatens, with only one umbrella to the bunch," said he. "As long as the whole number can find shelter beneath it, they are in perfect harmony, but when the crowd gets too thick and some of them get crowded outside, they begin to fight among themselves."

The governor thinks that if protectionists and the anti-protectionists were divided, the latter would be in the majority. "The passage of the Aldrich bill will," he said, "cause thousands of Republicans to vote the Democratic ticket because they are opposed to high tariff."

The anti-saloon league is putting on a full head of steam this week in hopes of carrying Delaware, Tippecanoe and Jackson counties. A poll of Tippecanoe county, including Lafayette, is said to show a "dry" majority of 300. Both sides are working day and night. Practically all of the business men and heavy taxpayers in the county are against the anti-saloon league. The back bone of the anti-saloon fight at Lafayette is the Purdue University contingent led by President Stone. The latter is being criticised by the business men for his activity. Plans are being made by the anti-saloon league to vote 300 students at Purdue. None of them are residents of the county, but they are to be voted just the same, regardless of the wishes of the taxpayers. The same tactics employed by the other side doubtless would be heralded from one end of the state to the other by the league as unfair. All of the students are to be challenged and forced to sign affidavits showing they are bona fide residents of the county.

All of the students are to be challenged and forced to sign affidavits showing they are bona fide residents of the county.

The anti-saloon league is putting on a full head of steam this week in hopes of carrying Delaware, Tippecanoe and Jackson counties. A poll of Tippecanoe county, including Lafayette, is said to show a "dry" majority of 300. Both sides are working day and night. Practically all of the business men and heavy taxpayers in the county are against the anti-saloon league. The back bone of the anti-saloon fight at Lafayette is the Purdue University contingent led by President Stone. The latter is being criticised by the business men for his activity. Plans are being made by the anti-saloon league to vote 300 students at Purdue. None of them are residents of the county, but they are to be voted just the same, regardless of the wishes of the taxpayers. The same tactics employed by the other side doubtless would be heralded from one end of the state to the other by the league as unfair. All of the students are to be challenged and forced to sign affidavits showing they are bona fide residents of the county.

Are YOU Being "Hunted"

One of today's Daily Republican Want Ads may be hunting you—ransacking the city for you.

It may be a message for you of urgent personal importance—one that, when you get it, and heed it, may change the immediate currents of your activities, of your interests; may even place around and about you new environments, new associates; may give you an entirely new start in a business way.

Isn't worth while to try to find out whether this may not be true, today, tomorrow, or very soon?

DID NOT RUN AWAY, HE SAYS

Mayor of Peru Avers His Books Are Straight.

NOTHING TO HIDE, SAYS HE

Absence From City, Mayor Odum Says, Was Due to Business Engagement and the Funeral of a Friend in a Neighboring County—The Investigation of the Mayor's Office Will be Continued, However, Says the Prosecutor.

Peru, Ind., April 21.—Mayor William A. Odum, who left Peru after he had been summoned to appear before the grand jury with his court docket, arrived home to find his unexplained absence had caused a great sensation. When asked where he had been he replied:

"I was in Logansport on some insurance business and attended the funeral of a relative at Largo, in Wabash county."

"How about these charges against you, and what about the story that you ran away from them?" the mayor was asked.

"I did not run away, as I have no reason to try to evade the law. I simply had business out of town, and I went away to attend to it. There is no crookedness in my office affairs."

"I know that there are charges against me, but they will have to prove them. I am here to answer my accusers, and will go before the grand jury any time they call for me. There is nothing for me to hide. Everything is straight, and I know what I am talking about."

When Prosecuting Attorney Kagy was seen and informed that Mayor Odum had returned he said:

"I am glad he came back. I think we shall ask him to appear before the grand jury and the matter will be thoroughly investigated."

It is intimated that the accounts of several other officials of the city will be gone over thoroughly by the grand jury before that body adjourns.

The investigation of the mayor's affairs will be continued, according to the prosecutor. For some time the city council has been asking Mayor Odum for his report for the last year, and twice meetings were held for that purpose. Each time, however, the mayor has asked for more time.

THINK WORST IS OVER

Farmers Relieved by Cessation of Night Rider Activities.

Petersburg, Ind., April 21.—There have been few new developments in the Night Rider situation since Saturday, and farmers are beginning to feel that the worst is over. A few more renters have left the territory, but no more threats of violence have been made. If the land owners can not get tenants to farm their river bottom land some will attempt to cultivate their entire farms by having the work done by hired labor. Others will not cultivate their farms this summer.

Members of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational society say that although one of their contentions is for one-third rent, still none of their organization is involved in the present disturbance, and that disturbances of this nature are sure to bring the society into bad repute.

Try the Money-Back Cure For Indigestion.

Nine times in ten stomach derangements are responsible for sallow complexion, dull eyes and thin body.

It is the stomach that supplies nourishing food to the muscles, the nerves, and skin. If the stomach is healthy, plenty of nutritious matter will be absorbed by the blood. If it is not healthy, the food will ferment, and undigested, will pass along through the bowels, furnishing so little nutritious matter that the blood becomes impoverished, and the glow of health vanishes.

If you suffer from nervousness, sick headache, belching of gas, sour taste in the mouth, heaviness after eating, or any other miserable stomach disturbance, you need Mi-o-na, and the sooner you get it the quicker you will be healthier and happier.

It will relieve any distressed stomach condition almost immediately. It will cure if used according to directions. F. B. Johnson & Co. sells it for 50 cents a large box, and he thinks enough of it to guarantee it to cure indigestion.

"BLACK HANDS" OUTDO SHYLOCK

Italians Literally Seize Their Pound of Flesh.

AN ACT OF BRUTAL CRUELTY

Their Victim's Refusal to Grant Their Extortionate Demands Prompts a Couple of Italians at Pittsburg to Proceed to Carve the Flesh From the Breast of Joseph Gugliotto Who Thereupon Consents to Do Their Bidding.

Pittsburg, April 21.—Alleged to have outdone Shylock in having actually cut portions of flesh from the breast of a man who refused them money, Salvatore Roberto and Nicolo Digliotti were held for court without bail at Braddock, a suburb.

With his wounds bandaged, but weak from the loss of blood, Joseph Gugliotto appeared at a Braddock bank in company with the two foreigners and asked to draw out $300. The teller called an interpreter and was told the story which resulted in the arrest and holding of the two men.

At the hearing, Gugliotto said he had received several Black Hand letters demanding money, but ignored them. He said he was aroused from a sleep to find the two accused men standing over him. He said they demanded $300 and that when he refused, one of them held him while the other slit his arms and face with a stiletto. Still he said he refused to comply with their demands until one of them began carving pieces out of his breast. Then he promised to get the money.

FOUR MEN LYNCHED BY OKLAHOMA MOB

They Were Charged With Killing a Federal Officer.

Ada, Okla., April 21.—About 200 citizens of Ada, practically all of them of the better class, who were thoroughly disgusted with the kind of "justice" meted out to criminals in the smaller towns of Oklahoma, took the law into their own hands and hanged four men for the murder of Deputy United States Marshal A. L. Bobbitt.

The lynched victims are: J. B. Miller, Fort Worth, Texas, cattleman; B. B. Burrell, Duncan, Okla., ranch owner; Jesse West, Canadian, Texas, ranch owner; Joe Allen, Canadian, Texas, ranch owner.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT IN THE COOPER CASE

Defense Bases Plea on Many Alleged Errors.

Nashville, Tenn., April 21.—The motion for a new trial in the Cooper case is being argued before Judge William M. Hart, in the criminal court here today, and the hearing will be finished tomorrow. Col. D. E. Cooper and his son, Robin J. Cooper, were convicted of the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack and twenty years in the penitentiary assessed as the penalty. Some of the forty-six errors alleged by the defense refer to the admission of evidence, others to the evidence on the part of the defense, which the court excluded. The defense also objects to portions of the charge of Judge Hart to the jury and to certain requests for charges, which the court refused to admit. They also claim that the court erred when he did not declare the case a mistrial upon the first report of the jury—"We find the defendant, John Sharp, not guilty, but are hopelessly tied up as to the Coopers."
